Why Not Filibuster?

To Keep the U. S. A. Out of War !

Why not filibuster to keep us out of war? Borah, La Follette, Lodge filibustered to keep us out of the League of Nations. You cannot reason with madmen.

"Not you, Mister Roosevelt, but God is my Leader to keep us from being annexed to Britain."—YE EDITOR.

God Save the U. S. A. from Roosevelt

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the U. S. A. and to the Constitution for which it stands:

"One country, not dependent on Britain, with Liberty and Justice for all."

Still Out of Jail

"Franklin D. Roosevelt was Secretary Daniels' assistant in the Navy Department throughout the war, and on a recent occasion declared that he furthered plans for the entry of the American Navy into the war on the side of the Allies from the first day of hostilities in Europe."

"Mr. Roosevelt boasted of his aid to Mr. Wilson's policy of 'following his designs far-sightedly'."

"Speaking last February in Brooklyn he declared that as acting head of the Navy he had committed enough illegal acts to send him to jail for 999 years, and his admission was applauded."

(The above quotations are from The American Monthly of August 1920.)

If the man Roosevelt considered himself a criminal while Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and betrayed this country during the last war—will it then be wise for you, and patriotic, to trust this very same man as President, and to believe him when he says: "I will keep us out of war"?—

Remember—President Wilson also "kept us out of war" and Franklin D. Roosevelt boasted—he was "following Mr. Wilson's designs far-sightedly".

War Propaganda Not Wanted

National Association of Manufacturers
14 W. 49th St., New York City.

My dear Mr. Canale:

I enjoyed collaborating with your organization against the machinations of the New Deal administration as long as you were against it. But President Roosevelt prophetically described your outfit when he said on Aug. 14, 1936 at the New York Chautauqua: "Industrial and agricultural production for a war market may give immediate fortunes to a few men; for the nation as a whole it produces disaster . . . . "

For the sake of "fool's gold" you are now engaged in propaganda for war. Kindly discontinue sending your cartoons which are being mailed us from the Industrial Press Service in Washington, as they reek with war propaganda, as well as your other items.

Beginning this date we are discontinuing sending you THE BROOM on an exchange basis. If you wish to subscribe at the usual rate you may send in your check for $2.50. We will not lend our columns to drag the U. S. A. into war for the profit of your outfit, which as Roosevelt said in a somber moment: ". . for the nation as a whole it produces disaster . . . ".

Sincerely yours, C. LEON de ARYAN.

Webster, Jefferson on Conscription

Cornell Brothers Found "Guilty"

By BOYD B. CORNELL.

MIDDLETON, Idaho,—As we write this, the Cornell Brothers have had their day in court and that day is closed, with the exception of the final bow from District Judge Cavanah in the form and manner of the sentence for being found guilty of refusing to register in the land and naval forces of the United States as per the requirements of the so-called Selective Service Act.

From the standpoint of winning a decision in the Federal District Court on the law being unconstitutional, we still believe we were on the soundest kind of Constitutional grounds in refusing to conform to the Act. Our position is grounded in the contention of Daniel Webster in holding that the Constitution is a Magna Charta of Freedom only if it is to be held to be a sound and comprehensive document within the limits of its actual wording and phraseology. If that instrument is to be "interpreted" as giving or "permitting" so-called "imperative" circumstances or "emergency" powers to any or even to a combination of three departments of government, it is no longer a Guarantee of the Peoples' Rights but, on the contrary, a license to the acting government to "usurp" Total Power on whatever handy pretext could be conjured up by the pleasant-voiced Master Politician who happens to enjoy the position of national broadcaster. We had and still have Daniel Webster's great speech denouncing such interpretations as substituting a Magna Charta to be slaves, rather than free men.

Daniel Webster, in House of Representatives, Dec. 9th 1814, speaking on a conscription bill then before Congress, in small part said:

"Is his, Sir, consistent with the character of a free government? Is this civil liberty? Is this the real character of our constitution? No, Sir, indeed it is not. The Constituion is libelled, fouly libelled. The people of this country have not established for themselves such a fabric of despotism. They have not purchased at a vast expense of their own treasure and their own blood a Magna Charta to be slaves."

And in summing up Webster said:

"They talk of dangerous designs against government, when they are overthrowing the fabric from its foundations. They alone, Sir, are friends to the union of the states, who endeavor to maintain the principles of civil liberty in the country, and to preserve the spirit in which the Union was framed."

Thomas Jefferson, writing to John Adams in 1777 said of Conscription:

"Considered, even under monarchial rule, the last of all oppressions."

Taxes on Radio Revenue

(From Radio Talk KGB, Wednesday, 7:15 p. m.)

AFL printers assembled at Miami, Florida, have decided to ask congress for a tax on radio revenues and strickter licensing as a means of curbing competition between newspapers who hire printers and radio stations who do not hire printers. Now I happen to be in the newspaper game and instead of being hurt by the radio I discovered that radio is helping my business, that is why I am on the air regularly. If the government is to place a tax on radio revenues and radio advertising it will open the gates wide open for placing a tax on newspaper advertising. Both are in the publicity game and once the government starts milking the revenues of the one it will decide that in justice to all it has a solemn duty to milk the other, too. The history of taxation shows that politicians never reduce taxes but are looking for means and ways of increasing them. It is a most foolish proposal to propose more taxes as a means of revenge, since it cuts both ways. Taxes should not be raised for punitive and burocratic regulation, in the first place. Government is only entitled to be paid for services rendered and not to be encouraged to interfere with private business merely because such business is successful in its own field. If the public is to remain the judge of what it wants, the newspapers will have to change their ways of giving out information so that people shall patronize them better. Editors are too timid in telling the truth, that is the reason why newspapers are losing out.

Labor Racket

Strike at Campbell's & S. D. Marine

Last week 175 men were locked out of Campbell's Machine company's shipyard suddenly by their union leaders who insisted on a closed shop. The same took place at the San Diego Marine Construction company's yards, keeping 125 men from earning a living. The men had no trouble with either management, the leaders started it all. The men must pay dues whether they work or not, the leaders get their salaries and rake-off regardless of whether the men work or make no wages. Many of the workers were milling around in front of the closed yards muttering curses on the leadership that deprived them of their earnings.

Warrant Issued for Assault

A. R. Cole, a structural iron worker, member of AFL local 229, appeared before Judge Terry for a John Doe warrant against an unknown assailant who had attacked him in the saloon annex of the Labor Temple on Sixth ave., Feb. 7. This is the story he told Deputy City Prosecutor H. Turrentine who drew up the warrant:

"V. W. Kenaston, agent for the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers, Local 229, collected over $93 from me for re-instatment into the union because I had let my dues lapse between the 21st of Spt., 1938 and October 12, 1940. I had been doing farm work during that period. After Kenaston got that money he ordered me dropped from the union while I was working as riveter on the Lockheed job here in S. D,. on the grounds that I had scabbed at Boulder Dam, for a no-union contractor. They did not give me the name of the contractor I was supposed to have worked for, nor the time when it should have happened. When I insisted that either my money be returned, or that proper charges be filed against me, or that I be permited to work at my trade, I got a beating in the annex of the Labor Temple, in the beerhall where I had gone to talk to Kenaston, since I was broke and needed money to eat on.

"A fellow took a swing at me, I backed out; he caught me on the back of my head, I fell to the floor on all fours, but got away. I was warned to quit hollering about that money, or else I would turn up missing as some fellows did up north."

Cole exhibited receipts to show that he had paid out the money to the union.

Wire Tapping by F. B. I.

A bill has been introduced in congress to give authority to the F. B. I. to tap private telephone conversation. Last year this bill was killed in the senate because it represents the methods used in Germany and Russia against their own people.

Charter Change for Water System

More taxpayers have signed petitions to the city council of San Diego asking for an amendment to the city charter to make the water system and its revenues independent from the general fund, so that the consumers shall not be milked in their water bills for political pork barrels.

Union Racket Blamed for High Prices

Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general, blames labor racketeers for the rising prices of food and housing. He spoke in Washington before the house judiciary committee. He says that some unions insist that concrete be mixed only by hand in place of concrete mixers. That more than doubles the cost.

Religious School Education

Friend de Aryan:

I understand there is a bill before California State Senate—think its SB-106 or SB-126—having for its purpose sending of school children from school an hour a week for religious instruction to any Church or religious organization their parents select.

I do not know whether this is a try to get the camel's head under the tent or to later force religious instruction in the schools and have eternal dog-fights in communities about whose religion and how much of it.

As its my experience that most Churches of all denominations are operated by the bald-headed, cold-blooded, big monopoly contributors of the front pews, who would die of apoplexy if the preacher made plain all taxes are theft retained to promote still bigger theft—all legalized, I look for this to be at best " the bunk." Would like to see you comment upon it.

Sincerely, GEO. CARTWRIGHT.

Editor's Note: What America needs today is more religion, not less. Parents should have the liberty to give it to their children according to their choice. Our public school system has turned communistic and the pendulum must swing back. Understanding of economics is a matter of intelligence, the present socialistic school teachers do not have it.

Firemen Demand Higher Wages

San Diego has 1425 city employees. If all of them get an increase in wages it will raise the city tax rate by 25c reported Russell T. Bailey, personnel director of the civil service commission. Of this 25c raise in the tax rate the firemen are asking for an 8c increase. That leaves 17c to take care of 1245 employes, while the 200 firemen are to profit from the 8c raise. In other words, the firemen who are better paid already than anybody else demand one third of the increase in the tax rate for themselves, while the remaining 17c shall be apportioned among the other employees. You can see how unjust their demands are: they want six times as great a share for themselves than is left for other city employees.

That is one of the reasons why I am opposed to their demands and especially to their methods of attempting to get it. Upon request of the city attorney Judge Turrentine postponed the date of hearing of my injunction suit against the firemen for next Monday, 10 o'clock.

Why F D R Wants WAR AGAIN

To avoid going to jail for 999 years Roosevelt must cover his tracks by going to war.

WASHINGTON,—The inside story of President Roosevelt's unauthorized aid to Great Britain and France can be told now as a result of Henry L. Stimson's admissions before the senate foreign relations committee. It was an off-the-record tale with this correspondent until the secretary of war blabbed.

On May 12, two days after Germany's invasion of the low countries, Mr. Roosevelt telephoned a high official of the war department. Said the president: "How many World War 75's have we got, and how soon can we ship them to France?" The president explained that the French 37-millimeter gun had proved utterly ineffective against Hitler's big tanks—the 80-tonners— and the French needed the 75's for point-blank fire. The war department official replied: "Mister President, I question the legality of that transaction." But F. D. R. said: "Never mind the law! Get the guns and send them overseas!" F. D. R. repeated this performance after the heroic evacuation of Britain's expeditionary force from Dunkerque. He shipped almost 1,000,000 Enfield rifles to England, whose overseas army had abandoned its guns in the flight from Flanders.

These incidents recall F. D. R.'s behavior as assistant secretary of the navy in 1916. Then, convinced that the United States would be dragged into the war, he placed war orders before congress had authorized the contracts or appropriated the money. Roosevelt said subsequently that he could have been sent to jail for 999 years if this country had not declared war eventually.

THE MAN BEHIND THE WAR

HE PLANNED IT THAT WAY

WASHINGTON,— Emissaries and advices from overseas bring word that Franklin D. Roosevelt has superseded Winston Churchill as diplomatic and military chieftain of the anti-totalitarian forces. The American president has become secretary of state and chief of the general staff for the "democracies". It is a strange role for the head of a "neutral state", but it springs from the fact that only the United States has the mazuma or materials for carrying on the struggle.

It was Roosevelt who forced—or persuaded—London to open the Burma road to relieve the beleaguered Chinese. The British were torn between the choice of "appeasing" Japan or aiding Chungking—and they bowed to Washington. F. D. R. also negotiated the deal by which Churchill agreed to turn over planes made here to the Greeks. His messengers—Donovan, Willkie, Hopkins, Currie, Leahy—have toured the "free world" to encourage anti-Hitler nations and to try to win over neutrals. London and the Dutch now depend on our fleet to check further Japanese aggression in Asia.

The president's friends naturally are happy over this world-wide recognition of his third-term prestige—an acclaim exceeding the tributes paid to Woodrow Wilson. But they entertain private fears that his present role entails American acceptance of heavy responsibilities for the war and the peace, and the reconstruction.—Ray Tucker.

THOSE WHO CRY FOR BLOOD

I confess without shame that I am tired and sick of the war. Its glory is all moonshine. Even success the most brilliant is over dead and mangled bodies, the anguish and lamentation of distant families appealing to me for missing sons, husbands and fathers. It is only those who have not heard a shot nor heard the shrieks and groans of the wounded and lacerated that cry aloud for more blood, more vengeance, more desolation.—General Sherman.

Let's Feed the Belgians

(Over KGB, Wednesday, Feb. 19, 1941)

Former President Herbert Hoover has again reminded us that the Belgian people are facing starvation; that they have the money in this country with which to buy supplies to save themselves; that we have the food and our farmers need the money; but that the blockade prevents this profitable and humanitarian trade. He showed that it is not the Nazis who will suffer from the blockade. They have food for their people. It is the conquered nations who are hurt and these peoples, our former allies and allies of Britain at the beginning of this war, are willing to buy the food so we need not extend charity to any of them. As a business proposition to help our own farmers find a market for their products; as a humanitarian proposition of helping a starving people get the surplus of our fields and orchards; as a plea of keeping faith with those who risked resistance to Hitler, we should by all means demand the lifting of the blockade to prevent mass starvation or else, again, we are going to take the consequences. Every opportunity to do good is a duty to do good. Failing to make good it becomes a liability and in the course of events, in the resultant consequences we are going to be held responsible by Him who rules supreme.

Mail from British India

On the 16th of September, last year, I sent a special air mail letter to a friend in Bombay, India, paying $1.50 for postage. He received it Oct. 8th. In reply he sent me a letter by regular mail, which was opened by the British censor and it arrived in San Diego last Monday, Feb. 17th. It takes now four months for a letter to travel from Bombay to San Diego. Naturally, the value of the information is almost lost at this rate of travel and I have decided to wait till the war is over before writing again.

Convicted for Refusal to Register

From Boise, Idaho, comes the information that the two brothers, Boyd and Clark Cornell, who refused to register under the selective service act on the grounds that it was unconstitutional, were found guilty in federal court by a jury and are to be sentenced by Judge Cavanah.

In the Boise Valley HERALD, published by the father of the two boys, the following speech by President Roosevelt, made on Aug. 14, 1936, at the New York Chautauqua, is being quoted:

"Industrial and agricultural production for a war market may give immediate fortunes to a few men; for the nation as a whole it produces disaster . . . To resist the clamor of that greed, if war should come, would require the unswerving support of all Americans who love peace."

Shortly after President Roosevelt made that memorable speech in which he also mentioned those who "seeking immediate riches— fool's gold—would attempt to break down or evade our neutrality . . . ", Hitler invaded Poland and President Roosevelt's words are coming to pass.

Brutalitarian Training

Dear Editor:-

In these "Times that try men's souls", it is quite evident from Radio programs, Editorials and correspondnce in the Press (with the notable exception of "The Broom" and a few other periodicals) very many styling themselves Christians, instead of unequivocally saying "NO" are trying to justify (or kid) themselves by compromising with evil, accepting the evil which they consider to be the lesser one. In doing this they are either forgetful or willfully ignore the fact that it is thru authoritarian methods and under new disguises that advantage is taken of our noblest impulses and qualities to mislead and betray us, whilst invariably and admitting of no exceptions whatever, good ends require good means for this attainment.

"Preparedness for Defense" has always proved to be a dismal failure, which instead of being a protection inevitably invites and provokes disaster. It is the "Way of Life" that leads to certain destruction and death for Nations as well as for individuals. Like Charity, "Preparedness" should commence at Home, by instilling Christlike principles into the minds and souls of children, before they are of conscript age, so that when their test comes, they will unfalteringly be guided by "The Inner Light". Toting a gun or a rifle does not necessarily make a man out of any boy but rather instead tends to transform him into a more potential gangster or murderer. Therefore, possession of firearms should be regarded more with shame than with pride, for they are all forms of evil thot, instruments of destruction, rarely if ever used for good purposes, their use encourages the murder instinct, which if possible, at an early age, should be completely eradicated from the soul of every civilized boy and girl.

The world we live in is still ruled by FEAR, PRIDE & GREED, silent, invisible but all-powerful forces which positively can only be overcome by exercising the Christlike principles of love and respect for all of God's children, without making any discriminations because of race, color or creed, not by destruction of their physical forms, thus liberating harmful forces upon other planes to torment us here upon Earth. For several generations yet to come, there will perhaps continue to be millions, who believing as they honestly do, in the power of evil to overcome evil, will be ready and willing to "Police" this and other countries, until such time as having learnt their lessons in "The School of Experience" in past, present and future Earth-lives, they realize they have been striving to accomplish the impossible and that any and all sad conditions which obtain are but an exact reflex of our individual and collective states of mind. For we reap only as we have sown in this and previous Earth-lives. "God is not mocked." The Laws of Cause and Effect and of Compensation upon all planes of being are immutable, they are exact and they are JUST.

Altho raised amongst Quakers, I contend that we should extend our helpful sympathy and protection even further than they do as a Sect, so as to include every living creature, for whether it be for food, utility, adornment or sport (?), so long as we continue to wage systematic WARFARE against the animal kingdom we cannot honestly expect nor deserve the blessings of "Peace on Earth". There is indeed a spark of the Divine Life in all that breathes therefore all life is sacred. "The Unity of Life" and all it implies should be respected and the Command "Thou shalt not steal" should be implicitly obeyed, for it most certainly applies to life itself, which is the most precious possession of ALL. Honest doubt is said to be the beginning of Wisdom but I am firmly convinced that rather instead it is an understanding sympathy for all of God's creatures, both human and sub-human, which will open up to us "A new heaven and a new earth" and that great World of Light which hides behind all human destinies.

Yours for More Light,
E. B. HILL.

PRO PATRIA

God giveth us the ties of blood and race
To live and die for whilst such lure is all
But with the lure outgrown, we reach beyond,
To catch the echo of another song;
For there are greater patriots than those
The voices of the multitudes acclaim,
Who labor for vaster Commonwealth,
Where strength shall serve and love alone defend
Till the whole world becomes 'The Father-Land'.

IN MEMORIAM

David H. Ryan

In East San Diego David H. Ryan will long be remembered as the contractor who built up Euclid Center and pushed the opening and paving of Home avenue connecting the Federal Boulevard with Euclid avenue.

The Rosary was recited for him at Goodbody's Ivy chapel last Friday. He died Tuesday in Oakland at the age of 58. He had been a contractor here for 27 years. Suffering from a kidney ailment he underwent two operations. The last one was so successful, it killed him. Requiem mass was held last Saturday.

His widow, children and friends are sorrowing for a man who had the courage and the insight of the pioneer. His word was as good as his bond; something which belongs to the horse and buggy age.

THOSE "CLOSED DOORS" SESSIONS

Whenever a legislative committee closes its doors to go into "executive session", its a safe bet public welfare is going to be executed. Norman Thomas has been quoted protesting closed door sessions of congressional committees stating, "American doughboys don't die behind closed doors and Americans don't pay taxes behind closed doors." Years ago when W. J. Bryan had a closed door session of the California legislature to discuss what to do, when west coast growers discovered Japanese did not make good slaves, Sacramento papers containing practically complete report of the meeting were on sale an hour after.—Geo. More Fool "Emergencies"

Glendive, Montana
February 6, 1941

Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

Regarding the controversy now raging between you and Senator Wheeler, I do not know how much you value my opinion but I am absolutely with the Senator in his efforts to stop you from becoming dictator of the United States.

We must help the British, the Greeks and the Chinese but if you have your way we will be worse off than the subjects of Hitler and Mussolini. If, and when, we have to have a dictator in this country, we should at least have a smart one.

There is another matter of great importance, which everyone seems to have overlooked. I have been reading the Bible and note that Moses parted the waters of the Red Sea—that Joshua, Elijah and Elisha parted the waters of the Jordan—that Joshua made the sun stand still and that Isajah made the sun back up ten degrees.

Very serious floods and other damage might come to us any day if some of our modern preachers would pull any one of those stunts.

It seems to me that an emergency exists, and I know you like emergencies, so why not proclaim one and while you have control of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government, have Congress pass a law forbidding any such overt acts on the part of the clergy.

I for one would feel much safer if such a law were enacted and I know that the present Supreme Court would not declare it unconstitutional.

Yours very truly, FRANK C. HUGHES.

HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

VITAMINS

Thousands of columns of print have been used to tell of the wonderful findings, from almost endless research, of a "something" the laboratory sharps have named "vitamins".

Dr. Geo. Starr White

This word means "life substance". The letters of the alphabet have been set aside to name the various "vitamins" from A to X. What is all this "scientific" talk about? Here it is: NATURAL SALTS IN NATURAL COMBINATION!

In other words: Foods which have been denatured by any process, such as pasteurization, preservatives, sugars, etc., lack certain of Nature's elements. The consequences of living on such foods, is rickets, skin disorders, catar, rheumatism, etc.

Instead of saying that all these forms of unhealth are caused by the subtracting from natural foods of something that was necessary, those commercially interested have flooded the press with statements that such and such medicines, drugs, fish-oils, etc., were required to prevent a great disaster to public health.

If people will live out of tin cans and paper boxes and assorted bottles, they must expect un-health. No amount of "vitamin A, B, C," or any other letter, will help them.

This "momentous research" was started soon after I had written a thesis on experiments with foods exposed to sunlight. I had proved that raw foods exposed to direct sunlight had a different effect on humans than the same foods kept in the dark. This was one of the discoveries which gave the laboratory "scientists" the idea of "vitamins".

Don't worry about your "vitamins". Eat, as much as possible, natural foods in their natural condition.

FOOL'S PARADISE

Congress has not had the courage thus far to effect a single important economy to offset record-breaking defense spending, which for the present year will probably run above $20,000,000,000. Income, despite new taxes, will amount to little more than $6,000,000,000. As the New York TIMES observes, this is enough to show "that our budget has got utterly out of hand".

For the time being, war has obscured the grim fact that this country is moving inexorably toward financial ruin—not only because of debts and deficits in themselves, but because there has been no serious inclination to chart a course that will ultimately bring government spending under control. We have no budget policy, and we have no tax policy. The Federal treasury is regarded as a grab bag. Taxation has been thought of as something with which to soak the rich and get votes. But hidden taxes blanket every necessity and every luxury, and by far the greater part of them are paid by the average citizen. This is the state of the nation financially—a fool's paradise of waste, at a time when it must be strong if it is to survive as a democracy in the stern world of the future.

Bankrupt nations end in anarchy. Anarchy ends in dictatorship, for dictatorship is the only way in which civil order can again be established. Too late the people of a bankrupt democracy discover what keeps democracy alive, namely, a sense of personal responsibility for acts of elected servants, and full realization of the fact that there is nothing superhuman about government. What government gives, it must first take away. In piling up debt it is taking away from our national future. If it takes away over a long enough period, there will be no future for us as a free people.

U SUCKERS

Formerly "U. S." meant United States: apparently now it means "U Suckers". We arrive at this conclusion from reading that war supplies sent Britain from the colonies are being paid for, and our Congress are all hot and bothered about a lease-lend bill to lease, lend or donate Uncle Sam's shirt to John Bull. Other items inform us that patriotic American groups are making up and sending Britain quantities of wool goods. At same time wool goods are received by colonies from Britain for sale. When Col. Smedley Butler said "War is a racket", he spoke from experience.—Geo. Cartwright.

LUTHER'S LAST SERMON: "WARNING AGAINST THE JEWS"

". . . Besides, you also have many Jews living in the country who do much harm . . . You should know that the Jews blaspheme and violate the name of our Saviour day for day . . . for that reason you, Milords and men of authority, should not tolerate but expel them. They are our public enemies and incessantly blaspheme our Lord Jesus Christ. They call our Blessed Virgin Mary a harlot, and her Holy Son a bastard, and to us they give the epithet of changelings and abortions. If they could kill us all they would gladly do so; in fact, many of them murder Christians especially those professing to be surgeons and doctors. They know how to deal with the medicaments in the manner of the Italians—the Borgias and Medicis—who gave people poison which brought about their deaths in one hour or in a month. (Luther's last sermon was held at Eisleben, a few days before his death, February, 1546.)

"Therefore, deal with them harshly, as they do nothing but excruciatingly blaspheme our Lord Jesus Christ, trying to rob us of our lives, our health, our honour and belongings. . . . . For that reason I cannot have patience nor carry on an intercourse with these deliberate blasphemers and violators of our Beloved Saviour.

"As a good patriot I wanted to give you this warning for the very last time to deter you from participating in alien sins. You must know I only desire the best for you all, rulers and subjects." (Erlangen Edition 62, p. 189).

Blessed Are The Peace Makers

Editor, The Broom:

Those who HATE WAR should make positive attempts to end war and back up their words with deeds. No foolin'. If we devoted the same tremendous effort to bring Germany and England together at the council table that we do to provide sinews to prolong and extend the war, peace probably would be attained.

Perhaps we should help England short of war BUT I recall that during the Civil War, ENGLAND HELPED THE CONFEDERACY SHORT OF WAR. Britons and Germans are racial kinsmen; therefore England should be willing to free Germany from the threat of starvation by blockade by agreeing to keep hands off of her food supply in the Balkans—Germany's sphere of influence—and then Germany would undoubtedly agree not only to keep hands off the British Empire—which lies in Asia and Africa, not in Europe—but allow England to retain her navy substantially intact. England has no more right to dominate the Danube River Commission than she would have a Rio Grande River Commission.

Peace efforts may fail but the knowledge that we had done all that could be done to restore peace would enable us to make war more consistently even tho it turned out to be another 30 Year's War as Senator La Follette wisely fears. Once in the war we would have to send troops to Australia as a defense against Japan and to India as a defense against Russia, who may still covet the warm sea-ports of India. When the holocaust ended, we too might have to "strike off a new coin" for we face a revolution between two world orders. The following conversation explains the old order. Napoleon: "Rothschild, what interest does England pay for your money?" 2½ per cent, replied Rothschild. "I'll pay you 3½", replied Napoleon. Rothschild countered with: "Bonaparte, this time, it isn't a question of interest; if you win the war, you will control Europe; if England wins, I WILL CONTROL EUROPE".

Efforts for peace are going on via Stockholm; if the Britain of Churchill rejects them the Britain of Bevin will consider them. Christians seem to be rare in a world that has had 2000 years of Christianity but Pres. Roosevelt has the opportunity of the ages to become the FIRST CHRISTIAN in a reeling world; his prestige would endure long after the memory of the present crop of dictators had passed into the limbo of forgotten things.

Let us not add another dictator to the crop. Let us have peace.

Sincerely, H. D. KISSENGER,

REPORTS of great Nazi organizations in Mexico for subversive efforts in the United States seem to have carried about the same percentage of exaggeration as the reports of "indignities", "brutal attacks" and other such insults being inflicted upon Americans in Mexico City on the day of the Mexican government's oil properties expropriation. On that memorable occasion, March 18, 1938, the editor of the Times-Advocate was in the crowd of the Mexican celebration and saw nothing of the "insults" and "indignities" reported in the newspapers all over the United States that day. —Times-Advocate, Escondido, California.

Highest Honors Men Earn, Is Standing For The Right

Clark Cornell,30 ;Boyd Cornell, 24

We have neighbors who have put in nine--tenths of the past 20 years in the belief that they would never again, on any pretext, give their moral support to another American expeditionary force to a foreign war. Quite a sensible resolution, one would say—to be expressed by nine-tenths of one's neighbors, nine-tenths of the time. Why were nine tenths of our neighbors expressing this sensible resolution nine tenths of the time? If a resolution is sensible nine-tenths of the time, why would it not be sensible to adhere to it all the time?

But our neighbors are just common working people. In matters of civic planning and political action, they follow slick political leaders who simply get them nowhere. We say that is the way it is with our neighbors. But when it comes to people who are well schooled, and high up in society, one would expect them to be different. One would expect them to be firm and resolute in maintaining that mental attitude that bespeaks personal dignity in that it does not yield to the epidemics of hysterical fear and hate that, once started, sweeps like a prairie fire over the general run of men.

However, even a casual observer can see that neither schooling nor high position gives those who enjoy their advantages, immunity to epidemics of foolish hysteria. There are many nationally known examples of the truth of the above, both in 1917 and in the present crisis. For example, in 1917 Dr. David Star Jordan, the then head of Leland Stanford University, was an anti-war leader up to the time war was about to be declared. Then he fell a victim to the war-making hysteria that held the general run of men in its grip. Then the highly placed L.L. D. salved his conscience — and preserved the respectability of Leland Stanford—by making himself the author of the following paragraph that was widely published and quoted and it did yeoman service in breaking down what resistance then remained to the "can-the-Kaiser" and "save-Democracy" and "war-to-end-war" hysteria that held the general run of men in its grip Here it is; isn't it plausible?:—

The Pacifist

"At the beginning of the year (1917) the Pacifist, that is the bulk of the American people, was in the position of the teetotaler bitten by a rattlesnake. He abhorred and distrusted the remedy at hand and he abhorred and distrusted the venom of the snake. But the serpent knew no other argument, and the man had no other immediately available. His friends earlier bitten, had been forced to trust to the same remedy. And with many misgivings but with grim determination, he set force against force, poison against poison, with the firm resolve that the same serpent should never bite again."

Today probably no nationally known personage affords a better illustration of the thing in mind than the erstwhile liberal journalist, poet and author, until recently connected with the "New Republic", Archibald MacLeish who in 1935 put himself on record as a war resister as follows:

"I should do everything in my power to prevent the U. S. going to war under any circumstances. There is only one possible position against the menace of militarism: Absolute hostility."

Now to return to Dr. Jordan's scholarly statement. It was "plausible" and, because of Dr. Jordan's position was accepted as "scholarly". But less than two decades later, (in 1936) no less an authority than Winston Churchill, present British Premier, made a statement relative to that, "bite of the serpent" and the "remedy" that Dr. Jordan put over with such a whoop, that, in the light of history revealed the scholarly Doc. as merely a "plausible" bunco-steerer with a Doc's degree. Here is what Churchill said:

"Legally we owe this debt to the U. S., but logically we don't, and this because America should have minded her own business and stayed out of the World War. If she had done so the Allies would have made peace with Germany in the spring of 1917, thus saving over a million British, French, American and other lives and preventing the subsequent rise of fascism and nazism."

We began this, what is doubtless destined to be the last of this series of articles (due to prohibitive prison restraints) by making allusion to our neighbors. On the very occasion when Dr. Jordan made his flip-flop, a young war correspondent, John (Jack) Reid, fresh from the war front was present, and was called for, and he protested the wisdom of the learned Doc. but he was just one of the non-conformists. The Doc got the headlines and the plaudits of the pious patriots. The above Churchill quote documents the results—dire results for common neighbors. But the "respectability" of Leland Stanford was preserved. Dr. Jordan might have done like W. J. Bryan. He might have stood true, and resigned. Virtually, Dr. Jordan accepted the bribe. Today Dr. Archibald MacLeish insures his own "respectability" by transferring "hostility to war" to "support of war" and has his estate advanced to Librarian of Congress. We Cornell brothers will be taken out of circulation because we say the thing today, that Dr. MacLeish said six years ago. Our idea is, that just as long as common men will war, the Big Boys will command them to do it.

DEATH RESULTING FROM VACCINATION

LONDON,—The death, following vaccination, of a young soldier, was revealed in the report of an inquest, published in the South Eastern Gazette of November 19th. The inquest, which was held by the Maidstone Assistant Deputy Coroner (Mr. C. H. Ellis), was on Henry Ernest Bartlett, aged 24, a private in the Royal West Kent Regiment. His home was at East Greenwich, and he had only been called up about ten weeks previously. The newspaper report states:—

"Evidence showed that Pte. Bartlett was vaccinated with about 100 others on Nov. 1st. On Nov. 11th he reported sick, suffering from the normal re-action of the operation, and he was put on light duty for two days. On Nov. 12th he collapsed and died."

If the "normal reaction of the operation" is sufficient to make soldiers report sick, it shows that the effect is generally more severe than is realized by the public; and the danger of primary vaccination in adults has, of course, been referred to more than once by the Ministry of Health.

Dr. P. J. Gaffikin, M.O.H., who made a post-mortem examination, described the deceased as "a very healthy and fine young man". He went on to say that the brain, however, showed signs of inflammation of the tissues, due to the vaccination, a state known as encephalitis. He added that this condition following vaccination was liable to happen, but it was very rare.

We have noticed that whenever there is an inquest where the cause of death is the same as in this case, the medical witness states that it is "very rare". But can it be rightly called "very rare", when the Rolleston Committee alone reported 197 cases due to vaccination, with 102 deaths?

'Stalinism'

Editor: Communists should know what they are talking about when discussing the new deal, for they have been much closer to it than Americans have; in fact some of them have been in it if actions means anything.

Hence when they say Roosevelt aims to get all labor, farmer, industry and business outfits under his thumb, and so flood the country with bonds and other debt that the bottom will finally drop out of everything, to give him an alibi for declaring a total emergency and taking over everything, lock, stock and barrel, property owners and others interested in our way of life had better wake up, unite & tell Mr. Would-Be Stalin where to head in.

I believe they are edging us closer to Stalinism than effective help to save England.

democracy

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

Labor Unions will not let us cave-dwellers, in this dynamite age, forget that in competition lies the life of—well, everything.

Ingersoll

Apartment, hotel, and office skyscraper managers, who not long ago felt that they could get along without any union help, now find two unions necessary —AFL and CIO. These union enterprisers, racing with each other to extend their squeeze to every nook and cranny of industry, certainly help the sale of aspirin.

How long will it take industrialists or businessmen to find out that they must promote a new solution of the labor problem, than that of Karl Marx—of union strikes and domination by 'the state'. (New York, Albany and Washington, etc.)

How many times must their business be stopped and its existence threatened, before they will learn the simple Jeffersonian answer to Marxism blitzkriegs. This was to have no monopoly, which now comprises half our 'wealth.' And then we would have no burocracy, in which we now have invested nearly 100 billion dollars.

We who are wasting our time 'envisioning' the 'fuller life', 'economic justice', etc., etc., sometimes wake up to figures promulgated by the 'House of Morgenthau' that has replaced the 'House of Morgan' as our financial authority.

Some of us have had the disadvantage of business experience and contact with so-called conservative bankers who told us our loans must not exceed 50% of our LIVE assets. As we nationally approach 100 billions debt, more than 50% of all our dead assets, we wonder if we shouldn't go back to the House of Morgan.

A new interpretation of 'democracy', 'capitalism', and 'Socialism', such as offered by that charming administrative voice, Dorothy Thompson, is necessary to understand presidential inaugural addresses, fireside chats, defense broadcasts and economic club letters. Otherwise, much of these messages is almost incoherent. But with a 'new kind of socialism', presumably easy to take, we need not fear its twin sister, Communism, more familiar to us. And our democracy with Capitalism, minus profits; that is the democracy 'envisioned' by the president.

Two poignant figures of the inauguration were the new and old Vice Presidents. Both dizzy in their strange environment—one the spearhead of the order of 50% prosperity by destruction, and the other now finishes 8 years of—mostly silent—protest at the waste, as he sees it, of 25 billion dollars in frank experiments, conducted by a dozen sophomores like the new V. P.

And coming to the present joyous occasion, John Nance Garner wonders how much more successful will this deal be in world affairs, on the edge of war, and with chaos beyond.

We Want NO WAR

God Still Rules Supreme
(Over KGB, Wednesday, Feb. 19, 1941)

The present world conditions present an important paradox. What is happenning now demonstrates that God rules the world and not arbitrary might or ruthless law breakers. Ever since mankind was able to think, the great leaders announced the goal towards which we are striving. It is to produce a heaven on earth, to incarnate the Will of God in these temples of ours not made by hand, that the Spirit of God may find expression in exemplary conduct of the peoples here on earth. The whole purpose of all sacred scriptures is to elucidate this goal, to show that God rules supreme, that His Will is the eternal Law which none may contravene without taking the consequences and here are the consequences. God gave us life, gave us intelligence, gave us power to act, gave us volition to choose and what a mess we have been making of it. The results prove that we cannot fool God, that His Law works inexorably so that we reap what we sow. And that is our security.

By the same token by which punishment is catching up with us, our reward is peace, freedom, happiness, health in the measure that we live up to His Commandments. This realization gives me the strength to carry on, even though my job is a lonely one; few dare stand out when the world goes crazy and few point to the folly of attempting to take the Kingdom of God by force. We cannot establish liberty, good will, respect for the rights of others by using force in the violation of those very rights.

The world is being jolted painfully into the realization which was brought home to mankind even in the days of the Savior of Nazareth. He laid down the proper rule of conduct when He introduced the last communion in place of the slaughter of the pascal lamb, admonishing His followers to be vegetarians and partake of the fruits of orchards and fields in place of butchering innocent animals. His Love included the weak even among the lower groups of life. But spreading these teachings He came into conflict with the Jewish rabbis who did the ritual killing according to Kosher rules; the innovation of not using lambs for the pascal feast interfered with their revenues.

The idea that prophets and warning voices must be silenced is not new. All history testifies to the fact that they were silenced by being stoned, crucified, killed, but the truth they spoke lives on, for they are witnesses unto the Will of God who rules supreme inspite of the dictatorship of the ignorant mobs and their leaders who silence the men and women who dare keep their senses clear to see the truth and proclaim it.

No suffering comes into the world imposed by God. All suffering is the result of wilful ignorance and disobedience of the eternal law which governs supreme. The very fact that those who use their powers, their intelligence to to exploit, to cheat, to mislead,—always wind up in war and destruction, proves that wellbeing can be had only by the application of the Golden Rule in practice and not by brutal force.

By the same token Jesus admonished us that the Eternal Father loves us all and made provision so that none need suffer want, be miserably sick, or be in doubt as to what is right or wrong. We all have common sense and by being honest with ourselves we can distinguish truth from error if we listen to the still small voice in our own heart and hold no hatred against any living being. The voice of Love is an infallible guide.

Wherever there is misery in the world, sickness and poverty, those who suffer it took part in producing it, otherwise, one would have to say that God's justice is not effective. Sickness is the result of ignorance in the conduct of our lives. We have no business being ignorant. If we would devote as much time to learning to know all that needs to be known about our own constitution, physical, organic, spiritual and mental, as we spend on frivolous things, we all would be healthy and wise. If instead of silencing the warning voices of the organism itself when by aches and pains we are being admonished to change our way of living, if we would obey that voice, we could always be healthy. But many of us prefer to kill the warnings by doping ourselves with much advertised drugs and the narcotics which are in common use, we take liquors and we smoke, in place of living correctly so as not to feel that sense of uneasiness, which we silence by taking a drink or lighting a cigarette.

BECKWITH IS A LIAR

In previous issues we showed that L. D. Beckwith, editor of THE FORUM, Stockton, Calif., is a mono-maniac, irresponsible in his language, fallacious in his premises, and wrong in his theory.

Today Beckwith obliges us and after having chanted for the last three years that there will be no war because of the operation of his Rent-Theory which is "scientific", Beckwith now headlines his center piece of Feb. 13, with: "THIS IS WAR!"

Thus his whole "scientific" fabric proves itself a stupid lie.

KNOCK - KNOCK !

"Knock, knock!" nobody there
"Knock; knock!" Yes, where, Oh, where
Is she that used to open here—
The little girl of smiles and cheer.

"Knock, knock!" Oh open just once more! —
The echo answers as before.
The dwelling seems all empty now.
How could I call her back, Oh, how?

There is no chance, none has returned
After the bridges were all burned.
The only way is to advance
To meet again in life's gay dance.

The future only holds the key
To life's unending mystery.
